

Individuals and small businesses often cannot afford or need to have full-time IT personnel. However, IT experts are required at times to fix whatever has gone wrong or to provide advice. This is where One i Solutions can help. One i Solutions can provide IT support to small businesses and individuals so they do not have to have full-time support staff.